

AP English Literature Summer Study 2009

Directions

- 1) Join the class website at <http://groups.google.com/group/apenglish2010/> immediately. Click "Sign in and apply for membership." You can create a Google account using any e-mail address, but it plays nicest with Gmail addresses, which you can create for free at www.gmail.com. Whatever you do, use a functioning e-mail address that you will check regularly during the summer and next year. I use this system frequently.
- 2) For your group nickname, enter your first name and last initial (e.g., William S.).
- 3) I recommend that you keep the default "Email" option rather than Digest or Abridged.
- 4) Under Pages you will find the complete summer reading assignment. There will be one novel to read and several papers to write, with deadlines throughout the summer. Also under Pages, you will find a link to the class calendar, where you can see task due dates. You may e-mail me during the summer at <PetersonPHS@gmail.com> or use AIM: <PetersonScottD>.

All the best,

Mr. Peterson
